

Dragons Den Dig

Session 1: May 6-10, 2002

Session 2: May 13-17, 2002

Be part of an historical paleontological dinosaur dig in the Northwest, Colorado.

Experience working with a professional excavation team on one of the most productive dinosaur sites in the famous dinosaur triangle near the Dinosaur National Monument.

Discover what the Bible says about dinosaurs and Noah's Flood by being involved in a hands-on adventure.

Learn how to identify, collect and interpret fossils from trained field experts who use a creation model.

Sample Activity

First Day – Visit the National Dinosaur Monument / Vernal Dinosaur Museum.

Second Day – Fossil Hunting in Cowboy Canyon / Orientation and Instruction on Dig Site

Third Day – *Excavation

Fourth Day – *Excavation

Fifth Day – *Excavation / Campfire

- Days of excavation Lunch and drinks will be provided.

Note: Pricing does not include transportation, lodging or meals unless specified.

Minimum age of 10 to do actual excavation.

Field Director

Pete DeRosa and Family

Creation Studies Institute's Outreach Director is an experienced excavator and professional fossil collector.

He and his family will guide you on this exciting dinosaur adventure. They are committed to the creation message with many years of qualified experience.

$850 per person

Maximum of 30 people per session